New York, New York – June 29, 2018 – Integrated Care Physicians, Inc. (“ICP” or the “Company”), a portfolio company of BelHealth Investment Partners, LLC (“BelHealth”), a New York-based healthcare private equity firm, today announced the appointment of Dr. Eric Rackow to the Company’s Board of Directors.

Dr. Eric Rackow was most recently President and CEO of Humana at Home (formerly SeniorBridge), Humana’s home healthcare division, which has a national network of more than 10,000 care managers. Dr. Rackow joined the company in 2007 and ushered the business through several years of private equity ownership before its eventual sale to Humana in 2012. He has nearly 45 years of healthcare experience both in management and as a practicing critical care physician. Prior to his time at SeniorBidge, Dr. Rackow was President of NYU Medical Center and Chairman of the Department of Medicine at St. Vincent’s Hospital in New York. Dr. Rackow also serves on the Board of Directors of Care Advantage, another BelHealth portfolio company that operates as a leading provider of home health services in the mid-Atlantic.

Dr. Todd Carlson, CEO of ICP, stated, “We are elated to add Dr. Rackow to the ICP family as a member of the Board of Directors. He has significant experience working in hospitals on both the clinical and administrative side. Given his background as a critical care physician, Dr. Rackow will be especially valuable as we continue to explore new service lines outside of emergency and hospital medicine.”

Dr. Eric Rackow, a member of the ICP Board of Directors, said, “I am thrilled to continue to deepen my relationship with BelHealth. I am a believer in BeHealth’s middle-market and healthcare-only approach to their sponsorship model. I am ready to get to work with Todd and the rest of the ICP team in order to execute on the growth strategy. As such, I look forward to leveraging my previous operational experience in the hospital, as well as my professional network to grow the business while staying supremely focused on superior patient care.”
